The global guide for life underwriting

Save time, Ask an Underwriter

Ascent's new communication tool offers direct access to our underwriters so that you can receive quick responses to your challenging questions.

Most submissions receive a response within four hours. Just complete the "Ask an Underwriter" form in Ascent. There are no required fields so you can include as much or as little information as you want.

We are here to support you with the various case scenarios that you may encounter from your producers. We can be your sounding board for everything from producer phone calls and e-mails to quick quotes and formal submissions.

About Ascent

Ascent, Hannover Re's global guide for life underwriting, is designed for all levels of life underwriters. The comprehensive, web-based platform is frequently updated and its intuitive navigation supports underwriter efficiency with a rating in just two clicks. Topic specific sections cover a variety of unique content. Ascent includes information and ratings suggestions for more than 500 medical conditions. Additional sections highlight non-medical, financial and international information to further aid underwriters in their evaluation of risk. Ascent's medical and financial calculators can be used to compute debits for a number of medical impairments as well as a variety of additional underwriting scenarios.

Use "Ask an Underwriter" for inquiries and questions related to:
